FALL 2006 MAR Field Meet

By Tom McNerney
Chairperson, Bald Eagle Grotto

During the 2006 Columbus Day weekend, cavers from all over the Mid-Atlantic Region gathered at the KOA Campground near Bellefonte, PA. A total of 97 cavers gathered for this weekend of cold and sunny weather, caving, and entertainment. This auspicious occasion happened to be the Bald Eagle Grotto's 20th Anniversary.

Cavers started to roll in early Friday afternoon to start setting up for the weekend. As day turned to night, most of the registrants had arrived, and set up camp. Unfortunately, our Guidebooks had not arrived from the printers yet, so a lot of cavers were milling about in anticipation, and waiting for the lead trips to be posted. Who knows? Anyways, once the books arrived, the guided trip lists were soon posted afterward, and quickly filled. A large bonfire was built, which proved to be the gathering point for most of the weekend.

Early the next morning, cavers were up and about to get ready for the early trips. The guided trips for the day included: three trips to Alexander, McAlisterville, Chime and Millers #1, #2, Rupert, and Kookon. Approximately 65 cavers had signed up for these guided trips, and most left the campground on time. There were a few self-led trips also this weekend. During the course of the day, a few late registrants trickled in.

As the day wore on, various trips returned to the campground to warm showers and the catered meal. A dinner of chili, rolls, and chips was served promptly at six pm. A few vegetarian chili dishes were also served up. Once dinner had been served, and as the crowd grew restless, door prizes were given away. This went longer than expected due to the overwhelming amount of door prizes. Finally, after all of the prizes were given away, we had our guest speaker for the night. Chris Nicola gave a very powerful and interesting talk titled "The Hell Above, Salvation Below." Although Priests Grotto had been know for a long time, what wasn't known was the history of a group of Jews and how they survived the Nazis in the Ukraine during WWII by living in Priests Grotto. Mr. Nicola talked from a first-hand experience of the cave explorations, and the developing story of how these Jews survived in the cave. Fortunately this story has not ended, and Chris continues to do work with the survivors and documenting the history of this true story. After the talk, we concluded our celebration by having delicious cake for everybody. A bonfire ensued, and the night was finally winding down.

Finally, on Sunday morning, cavers had started to break down camp, and head for home. The Bald Eagle Grotto would like to say thanks for everybody who attended this event. We received nothing but positive feedback from our fellow cavers. We would especially like to thank the staff at the Bellefonte KOA, Chris Nicola, and especially the attendees who made this a safe and successful MAR event! Thank You.
